Front-End Developer

Varzonova Tetiana

I am a junior frontend developer, and my life is like a constant puzzle that I try to solve every day. Every project I take on is a new puzzle, and I use my skills and creativity to find the right solution. I am passionate about creating interactive puzzles for users, and I am constantly looking for new ways to make the Internet a more interesting and engaging place.

I have a fine artistic taste and design interfaces with users in mind. I also have knowledge and experience with technologies such as HTML, CSS and JavaScript, which allows me to create modern and responsive interfaces. I also have experience with libraries and frameworks such as React in my arsenal. In addition, I am constantly learning new technologies and following best practices in frontend development to ensure maximum quality and user satisfaction. I have a habit of finishing projects on time, staying within deadlines. I combine creativity, ethics and strategy.
